Change

OF CHANGE OF HURRICANE PROPORTIONS...

The process of gittin' th' Economy whipped into fightin' condition to enable this country to beat back those Economic Invaders and to relocate what was once known as th' Free Market or Competitive Market, or whatever, continues to shake up our Grate Sassy more than somewhat. Last week's move by Continental Airlines to head for th' storm cellar of Chapter 11 to try to economize on labor costs before th' company blew up, was just one of many changes bein' made. Swift Independent Meat Packing and Armour & Company announced they were shuttin' down a total of 19 operations in that Master Contract with th' United Food & Commercial Workers Union, which called for wages and fringes that made those plants non-competitive. ### Feedlot Trade Opens To Stronger Prices

Amesbury, Sept. 27 (F.S.)—Trade very active in the Panhandle area Monday. Slaughter steers fully 1.00 higher, heifers 50 to 1.00 higher. Feedlots reported good interest and inquiry from buying sources. Sales on 16,800 slaughter steers and 8,500 heifers. 27,400 head sold for the week to date. Steers: Good and mostly choice 2-3, 70-85% choice, 105-117 lbs. 60-60-61.00. Mixed good and choice 2-3, 105-1200 lbs. 55.00-60.25. Several pens good and choice 3-1, 1100-1300 lb. (CONT. ON PAGE 6A)

Slaughter Cattle Up, Butcher Hogs Gain At Markets Monday

Around the central market circuit on Monday the saleable receipts of cattle and hogs were little changed from a week earlier. Improved conditions that started late last week and a continued lightening of cattle slaughter numbers served to bolster the fed cattle markets and advances of $1 and more were noted at most points, spots being $2 better. Slaughter cows and bulls at these reported markets were little changed, with a place or two higher. Monday's estimated cattle kill at 185,000 was a 10% increase over the previous week. (CONT. ### USDA Proposes Changes In P&S Rules, Policy Statements

Washington — The U.S. Department of Agriculture has proposed its fifth group of changes in regulation and policy statements during the regulatory review of the Packers and Stockyards Act. "These changes will reduce the regulatory burden on the livestock and meat industry without lessening the protection afforded for producers, consumers and industry members under the P&S Act," said E. F. Jones, administrator of the Packers and Stockyards Administration. (CONT. ON PAGE 10A)

Gains. Why RALGRO® implants are making news in feedlot trials!

A recent independent study of finishing steers sponsored by the makers of RALGRO and the makers of Synovex® implants now represents the largest most comprehensive cattle implant trial on record. Research showed cattle implanted with RALGRO first, then reimplanted with RALGRO, to have gained more with greater feed efficiency than any of the other implant combinations tested. In fact, the RALGRO/RALGRO combination's total gain in pounds per head was 12 pounds greater than the Synovex/Synovex implant combination. The RALGRO combination also had better feed efficiency over control animals as compared to the Synovex combination. Impressive results like these confirm what other studies have shown: RALGRO is the cattle implant of choice for finishing cattle! Contact your RALGRO representative for more information. Or, write or call RALGRO, P.O. Box 207, Terre Haute, IN 47808, phone 1-800-467-0871.

USDA Proposes Changes In P&S Rules, Policy Statements

Jones said certain rules and policy statements will be clarified, and which are outdated or no longer needed will be eliminated.

The proposal will:

- 1 - Remove a policy statement on packer purchases of livestock from since this duplicates other federal rules.
- 2 - Revise a rule which prohibits packers and dealers from owning financing selling agencies.
- 3 - Amend the rule concerning packer ownership of dealers or buyers.
- 4 - Retain in their present form rule prohibiting exchange of buyers information for the purpose of restricting competition, a rule which prohibits packers and dealers competing in purchases of livestock to conduct operations independently of one another and the rule which prescribes terms conditions of credit sales of livestock packers.

Five other policy statements pertaining to meat packers would also be retained in their present form.

Written comments will be accepted until Nov. 14, and should be sent to Packers and Stockyards Administration, USDA, Washington, DC 20250.

Wide Range Of Horses To Be On Exhibit

Conroe — Horse enthusiasts will have an opportunity to see a wide range of breeds at the Montgomery County All Breeds Horse Exhibition here Oct. 22.

The event will begin at 1 p.m. at Montgomery County Park.

"This will be our fifth annual horse exhibition, and it's grown every year," said Brad Cowan, Montgomery County Extension agent. "Last year we had different breeds represented, ranging from miniatures and Arabians to Appaloosas and Tennessee Walkers."

Cowan expects an even larger number of exhibitors this year. "We invite people from throughout Texas to take part in our exhibition," he said.

"The Texas horse industry continues to grow by leaps and bounds, and this exhibition offers an opportunity for people to learn more about various breeds of horses."

The event was organized by the Montgomery County Horse Committee, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and the Texas Horse Show Association. Cowan has an opportunity to exhibit his horses through the exhibition, and he will have demonstrations of horsemanship and up an information booth.

"To my knowledge this is a unique opportunity for horse owners and interested individuals," said Cowan.

Whose on first? No, Whose on second, What's on first. If you want to witness mass confusion and sharply divided opinion start following the futures markets. In nearly every market prices are literally flying all over the place due to conflicting market forces. Market psychology wants desperately to be bullish, but just when commodity prices

The bull has returned to the grain markets on the Chicago Board of Trade. Last week November beans fell $1.11 per bushel in 4 days of trading. The next 5 days brought forth a $1.14 rally. That's not a action I'd like to know what is. This weeks rally was quite small. It was the first time in 1984 from 8.43 to 9.00. It was mostly about covering and speculators bottom picking. Then computer selling entered the market just over the $9.00 level basis the November. All seemed calm and a move towards $8 was predicted by all the technical traders and chartists. Then a surprise! The USDA released its estimate of soybean carry-over from last years crop. It was an incredibly bullish report. The government apparently vastly overestimated last years bean crop. In other words, the carry-over was much smaller than more a bushel (aside from other outside forces such as drought). Needless to say the soybeans were limit up the day after the report and 28 cents up the next day. But right at the height

The Chicago Mercantile Exchange also has its share of action. Cattle prices have rocketed to levels unseen in over 60 weeks. The volume has been quite lively, but the market has been somewhat choppy and the dressed beef market has also firmed up lately. Those are two positive signs for sustaining prices. Most of the buying has come from computer programs picking bottoms and from speculators doing the same. The commodities have been noticeably absent as of late. The market has been somewhat released its quarterly Pig Crop Report this past week. I guess the surprise is that there is no dramatic cut back in hog production for the immediate future. This was a surprise since the strong grain markets were supposed to be a bullish factor for distant month hog contracts. I am not sure if this is a demand for me to be a bull for livestock near term. At this writing, October cat-

Proven cows, donors and donor quality. Many 3-in 1's and pairs. Breds, Opens, Show Quality, Pasture Quality. From the herd with the phenotype and genetic stability that made Willow Springs Ranch and Quality Branches famous/synonymous.

While WSR is known for its quality females, the sagas of WSR Rocky Joe 650, WSR Cloud 942 and others are legend. Hard sires produced by WSR are equalled only by the dams that produced them.

These are the kind that sell at the ranch Saturday Oct. 22 as the grand finale of Brangon Days in Washington County. Breeders who have seen them say the 1993 Best Sella Candidates are the best. Willow Springs Ranch has offered to take WSR's stand as the leading producer of female females wasn't easily earned. Over a half of a century has been devoted to diligently building exceptional fertility, efficiency and productivity. It's a family of feminine cows with the size, conformation and udder capacity to maintain the legends of the WSR female. Outstanding brood cows at work on the ranch are the country carry the WSR tradition. The family follows in WSR Online.

PRORICH FEEDS

FROM THE HEART OF THE ROCKIES...

A Testimonial...

"This past winter I used Prorich supplemental feed on my cow herd. I was very pleased with the results. As the cattle came through the winter in better condition than ever before. The cattle shined off immediately and cycled earlier. Having used different feeds in the past I can appreciate the values of the Prorich formula."

Late Week Turn Spurs Fat Cattle Feedlot Movement

Greely, Sept. 23 (F-S) - National Slaughter Cattle Review. The slaughter steer and heifer market spent a great part of the week in the doldrums, mired under the burden of a series of price declines in both the dressed and live markets through midweek. But recovery set in abruptly toward the end of the week, as buyers in the nation's direct markets mounted a strong effort to build inventories of cattle, and closing prices turned higher. Markets across most of the country turned .50-1.00 lower through Wednesday.

day, some terminal markets as much as 2.00 lower, according to USDA's Market News Service. The terminals of the midwest did not have enough cattle after that time to reflect the wave of recovery, but elsewhere the declines were recovered or surpassed in a flurry of trading Thursday which pushed closing levels in the direct areas as much as 1.00 higher than late last week. One exception was the California-Arizona Area, which closed unevenly 1.00 lower to 1.00 higher, and reported only a very thinly-tested late market. Another was the Pacific Northwest, which was still steady to 1.00 lower late.

Sellers seemed willing to move numbers, as shown, for example, on the central plains, where the Texas Panhandle posted an all-time volume of movement for one week, and some feedlots indicated that this week's sales included cattle originally slated for October Showings. The following are summaries of week's price ranges and closing levels for selected major market areas through Thursday.

Midwest - Cornbelt steers - choice 2-4 1050-1300 lbs. 57.00-62.00; latest range 58.00-62.00. Heifers - choice 2-4 950-1100 lbs. 55.00-59.00; closing 57.00-59.00.

Central Plains Direct Markets: steers - good to mostly choice 1050-1225 lbs. 59.00-61.00, some in the Northern Plains 1050-1100 lbs. 58.75-59.00 early; closing sales on weights up to 1225 lbs. 59.00-61.00. Heifers - good to mostly choice 925-1060 lbs. 56.50-59.00; latest sales 57.50-59.00.

Arizona - California: steers - mostly good, some choice 2-3 56.50-60.00; latest sales 57.00-59.00. Heifers - mostly good, some choice 58.00-63.50 early; not tested late.

Idaho - Washington - Oregon: steers - good to mostly choice 1050-1200 lbs. 57.50-59.00, few 59.25; poorly tested after midweek. Heifers - good to mostly choice 925-1000 lbs. 55.00-57.50 early; poorly tested after midweek.

Second USDA Test Of Orner Steer Palace Scheduled

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Office of Transportation has announced plans for a second test shipment of cattle in a prototype "Steer Palace" trailer built by the Orner Freight Car Company, Cincinnati.

The 1200-mile test, scheduled for September 26-29, will involve the shipment of 44 450-pound feeder steers from Newport, Tennessee, to Annapolis, Texas.

The Steer Palace, equipped with on-board feeding and watering systems, is designed to demonstrate the viability of shipping livestock over long distances by rail. Working in cooperation with Orner, Texas A&M University, and the Burlington Northern, Norfolk Southern, and Great Northern railroads, USDA has been testing the trailer since May, 1982. Its first long-haul test was successfully completed in January of this year.

A number of modifications have been made to the car, based on the results of the January test. Feed and water troughs have been redesigned and relocated, and two new floor design cars will be divided by an observation and instrument compartment. The part of the lower level of the trailer car will be used for this test.

As in the January test, researchers will collect pre- and post-travel data on the health, stress levels, shrinkage and recovery range of the cattle. Orner will travel in an accompanying car and will use VCR equipment to record the cattle's eating, drinking, and sleeping habits. This data will be compared to information gathered from a light shipment between the same two points and with shipment via an interstate trailer equipped with feeding and watering systems.

A successful outcome of the test is expected to help establish rail shipment as a cost-effective means of transporting livestock over long distances. Livestock business today 800,000 tons as recently as 1970, but fallen to almost negligible levels today.

Zebu Classification In The Pan-American

Dallas - Zebu cattle have been one of the more popular breeds of livestock at the Pan-American Livestock Exposition since the first classification was offered in 1957. Numbers of cattle should double at first show's entries.

Classes for Zebu Tejano, Indochino and Gyr will be judged at 1:00 p.m. Sunday, October 9. Exhibitors will compete for trophies and $4,000 in premiums.

Don Clark, Director of Livestock stated "By having the Zebu classification, we are satisfying the needs of people interested in the Brahman type cattle. We have many interested visitors who make special trips to Dallas just to see Zebu cattle during our Exposition."

Entries in this division may also be in the ABBA classification provided they are registered with the ABBA and pay double stall fees.

Additional livestock information is available by writing the Livestock Department, State Fair of Texas, P.O. Box 26010, Dallas, Texas 75226.

Wool & Mohair

Denver, Sept. 22 (USDA) - Domestic wool slow primarily due to limited supplies while demand paid fully steady to firm prices. The domestic personnel support center is currently negotiating for 575,000 yards of poly/wool blend tropical weight and near 85,000 yards of cleanings and 28th for fall wools, while again 125,000 pounds have sold during the past couple weeks mostly from the same FOB warehouse for prices free 64's and 64 7/8's with longer staple at upper end of quotations.

At upper end of quotations, the reported sold during the past few weeks was over 800,000 pounds of wool of the nation's center wool pool, which included choice style 65's and 66's, 2.00-2.10 and choice 60's $1.70-1.80 clean delivered.

Australian wool auctions steady to firm with Japan the principal buyer, although AWC supported at lower percent. Prices in New Zealand competition good.

No new sales Mohair confirmed. The rings of a tree are always found apart on the tree's south side.

TCFA Convention Bronze Created by Weeks

Aurillo - "Strategy for Success," theme of this year's Texas Cattle Feeders Association Convention in San Antonio, is also the title of a bronze created and cast by Garland Weeks, one of the nation's most renowned Western artists.

The bronze illustrates a typical Southwestern scene: a feedyard pen rider discussing the day's activities with the yard manager.

One lucky person attending the TCFA Convention will receive a copy of the bronze for winning the annual "treasure hunt," which is conducted during the Convention. The Convention is scheduled for Nov. 13-15, at the San Antonio Hyatt Regency.

"Garland Weeks is considered one of the best Western artists around," said Jim Peterson, TCFA member and director and convention manager. "The bronze, created especially for our annual meeting, is an outstanding piece of work, one that any collector would cherish."

Everyone attending the Convention will have an opportunity to win the "Strategy for Success" bronze. Peterson said. The bronze, in a limited edition, is available for sale.

The Convention also features an outstanding program, with speakers addressing topics aimed at providing cattle producers with sound information they can use to benefit their operations.

This year's Convention keynote address will be delivered by San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros, one of the nation's fastest rising political figures. Other scheduled speakers include Dr. Dub Waldrip, president of the National Cattlemen's Association; Jim Mullins, chairman of the National Live Stock and Meat Board; Don Butler, chairman of the U.S. Meat Export Federation; and Charles Koots, current TCFA president.

Other speakers include Dr. L. W. "Bill" Pope, head of the New Mexico State University Animal Science Department; James Humes, a communications expert and former presidential speech writer; and Dr. Ann McGee-Cooper, a teacher of creative thinking techniques.

Don't Damage Your Roof!

The Priefert Hay Dolly hooks to your pickup or tractor with only a simple pin hitch and trip rope. Because brakes are not required, the Hay Dolly works well in bad ground conditions. The simplicity of the Priefert bale mover will amaze you and assure you of a long, productive life for this unit. Write or phone for literature and dealer nearest you.

103,400 Fed Cattle Sold In Panhandle All-Time Record

Amarillo, Sept. 28 (F-S) — Slaughter steers 25-50 higher, heifers 50-100 higher. Trade slow early in the week but turned very active Wednesday and Thursday to close the week at the largest volume ever reported in this area. (Previous record was 93,000 head in March of this year). This week's volume brings the average weekly movement to nearly 80,000 head for the past five weeks.

These large movements have most feedyards selling cattle well ahead of projected schedules, and numbers on showlots are beginning to decline somewhat. Sluggish-trade early in the week partially due to sharply lower carcass beef prices which were quoted at lowest level since August of 1979. The beef trade fully regained losses. The average live weight of cattle slaughtered by area packers last week was 1081 lbs. compared with 1077 lbs. the previous week and 1086 lbs. a year ago. Sales on 65,800 slaughter steers and 87,600 heifers. Note: all live cattle sales based on net weights FOB the feedlot after a 4% shrink.

Steers 65,800; good and mostly choice 2-3, 70-85% choice, 1050-1200 lbs. 55.00-60.00, late bulk 50.00-60.00. Mixed good and choice 2-3 1075-1250 lbs. 57.00-59.00, good and choice 2-3 1100-1250 lbs. Holsteins 52.00-53.00/58.00 meat. Heifers 87,600; good and mostly choice 2-3 925-1025 lbs. 55.00-58.50, mostly late at 57.00-58.00. Mixed good and choice 2-3 925-1050 lbs. 55.00-57.00. ### First Preconditioned Calf Sale Oct. 27 At Ft. Worth, Enrollment Deadline Oct. 6

Ft. Worth - The First Certified Preconditioned Calf Sale will be held in conjunction with the special Stock-Fooders sale at the Fort Worth Stock Yards on Thursday, October 27. This will be the first sale of this kind in Texas. The certified Preconditioning Program is being promoted by Purina and its dealers throughout the country. Cattlemen have been benefiting greatly from this program. Cow-Calf producers have realized up to 80 lbs. per head weight gains during the certification period while reducing the mortality rate 80-90%. Cattle buyers have been paying more for the Preconditioned calves because they are certified by the seller to be weaned and bunk-broken and the calves were veterinarian-certified to be current on vaccinations and health practices. Records are available to show how cattlemen are making more money by using this Certified Calf Program. Cattlemen who are interested in enrolling calves in this program to be in the Sale October 27, must enroll them in the program by October 6. If you would like to give your calves the opportunity to make you more money call Guy Echols at the Echols Farm Store in Richardson, Texas, phone 214/231-3116. Guy will give you the details on the certification program and get your calves signed up for the first Certified Preconditioned Calf Sale in Texas, where they are expected to bring premium prices from the buyers. This is an opportunity for cattlemen in this area to get top prices for their calves.

Commercial Cowman's Day Hosted By Missouri Brangus Ranch

Brangus cattle were the topic of conversation at the Commercial Cowman's Field Day, September 17, 1983, which was hosted by Regal Land and Cattle Company, Dadeville, MO.

Mike Condit, managing partner, Regal Land and Cattle Company, welcomed the group to the ranch and gave an overview of the operation. Also present were ranch owners, Fritz and Judy Johnson and Connie Condit.

The field day was designed to inform and educate the commercial cowman in the marketing aspect of the cattle industry. Brangus and commercial cattle were on display for the attendees to view and evaluate. The educational day was a come and go event with both morning and afternoon programs.

A group of over 150 cattlemen gathered to hear Dr. Carla Chenette, Beef Cattle Breeding Extension Specialist, University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY speak on various segments of the cattle industry. She addressed the group with a slide presentation on sire and dam selection, maintaining production records, and the values of central test stations. She also spoke on the potential for profit in the beef business and how to obtain that profit.

Jerry Morrow, International Brangus Breeders Association (IBBA) executive vice president, was the second featured speaker of the day. Morrow talked on the foundation of the Brangus breed and the advantages of Brangus cattle. He also stressed the dependency of the purebred breeder on the commercial breeder. He noted the importance of selection when designing a cross-breeding program and the importance of producing replacement females for your herd.

I've seen boys on my baseball team go into slumps and never come out of them, and I've seen others snap right out and come back better than ever. I guess more players lick themselves than are ever licked by an opposing team. The first thing any man has to know is how to handle himself.

Winds Of Change Blowing Around U.S. Farm Policy

College Station - The agricultural economy of the nation is in a stage of transition along with agriculture itself and policies affecting agriculture, says a leading economist in policy and marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Dr. Ronald D. Knutson says "we simply cannot continue to go down the same commodity program path of the past 50 years."

A substantial base of support is developing for change, yet major changes in policy seldom occur, Knutson adds. "Instead, changes are generally incremental and deal with particular problems at a moment in time," Knutson says there are several critical issues that are likely to be the focal point of debate for change on agricultural and food policy in the next several years.

"Goals of agricultural and food policy from the 1940s through much of the 1960s were to raise farm income to the level of non-farm income. A shift in goals occurred in the early 1970s simultaneous with the adoption of more export-oriented farm policies," Knutson says. This change was partially a political necessity and partially a desire to take advantage of agriculture's productive capacity by competing in the export market, he believes.

"Farm and food programs thus took on multiple objectives—raising farm income, supplementing the income of the poor, expanding exports and using food as a tool of diplomacy," Knutson says. "When surplus built up in the early 1980s, we went back to the production control policies of the 1960s. While the goals had changed, the policies had not."

"Since these multiple objectives were neither adequately specified nor organized in priority sequence, the result was inconsistency. Policy has been made in a patch work fashion—frequently on a crisis basis. This is how the present PIK (payment-in-kind) program originated," Knutson says.

Establishment of a consistent food and agricultural policy requires the development of a set of overall goals as well as a consistent set of policies and programs to achieve them, says Knutson.

"Farmers increasingly talk of the need for a long-range agricultural and food policy—an eight- to 10-year farm bill that would avoid the post-election year rush to prevent reversion to antiquated permanent legislation as well as the almost yearly farm bill revisions," he adds.

Goals of such a policy have yet to be specified and would need to be open to considerable debate. They would likely be even less producer-oriented than in the past and would require a ranking of the relative importance of raising farm income, expanding exports, feeding people, conserving soil and water resources, obtaining equity for hired farm labor, maintaining producer independence and stabilizing food prices, Knutson predicts.

Domestic farm and food policy goals would need to be related to general economic policy, foreign policy and economic development. While developing such overall priorities may be too much to wish for, the fact that people are talking about such a possibility creates the potential, he adds.

"Current price and supply conditions are as much a result of government policy decisions as of overall trends in forces affecting supply and demand for farm products," Knutson says.

Results of the most recent study of the global demand for food and fiber through the year 2000 concludes that the global balance between cereal production and population will remain quite close, indicating vulnerability to annual shortfalls due to weather, or policy mistakes. During the next 20 years, the world will become even more dependent on trade, according to the study.

"This study, Knutson explains, also predicts increasing competition for U.S. farmers in international markets from developing countries selling farm commodities as a source of foreign exchange to pay for imported such as oil. "Despite this increased competition, exports of grain from North America are projected to nearly double by the year 2000. While trade in meat is expected to increase by about 284 percent from the 1978-80 base, most of the exports are expected to come from Oceania, Eastern Europe and the European Economic Community countries—not the U.S.," he says.

Knutson says that resources—such as land, water and technology—are likely to be the limiting factors so far as agriculture's future productive capacity is concerned.

Water is a major concern to producers as well as those in the semiarid states. The water problem is being solved, not by finding more water, but by developing a pricing system that will allow its internal and external costs, or by rationing the quantity that can be used, he emphasizes.

"Regardless of what is done to improve land and water, output of the future increase in agricultural output must come from technological change," Knutson says.

AVOID CHANGING WELL LEATHERS FOR MANY YEARS

Perma-cups are molded urethane, more wear resistant than nylon. Perma-cups will outlast leathers 10 to 1. Their tapered design allows only 1/8" wearing, instead of 3/8" of a leather. Much less friction for easier pumping extends cylinder life greatly. Perma-cups must be used in a good or new cylinder, as they do not swell. Install Urethane Perma-cups, Urethane Check-balls, and Urethane Pump Rod-guides, and don't pull that well for many years. Thousands are in wells that have not been misadvised in 8 years! All are available in standard cylinder and pipe sizes. Write or call for our catalog. We ship same day order is received. This is our 23rd year serving ranchers.

Sire Evaluation Launched With Commercial Breeder
By Joy Weinheimer

IBBA Director of Advertising If the old saying "two heads are better than one" is true, then surely several heads are better than two. Through the efforts of several Brangus breeders, a Sire Evaluation Project is being conducted using semen from Valley View Cattle Company, Athens, Texas. Quinn, Valley View Management Services consultant, and Holbert realized the benefits that could be derived from a project of this type not only from the standpoint of the IBBA, but for the advancement and improvement of the Brangus breed. Valley View Cattle Company, managed by Hank Sory, volunteered for this project in hopes of obtaining superior genetics for their herd, especially among the females and to identify superior genetics for their lines of Brangus cattle that will function and perform in their environment. Sory also felt like this was a prime opportunity to stir up interest and excitement among his own personnel.

The IBBA felt this project would be helpful in determining the relative breeding value of bulls within the Brangus breed from the standpoint of the commercial industry. The project would also be an ideal opportunity to identify problem areas in our breed relative to raising cattle in a commercial environment.
Quinn and Sory secured 247 females for this project while Holbert secured semen from selected bulls.
The procedure would be to utilize this herd of 247 commercial cows known to be fertile and cycling and breed them after synchronized heat via artificial insemination (A.I.) to a selected group of seven Brangus bulls. The bulls were bred to a random group of similar cows for one A.I. service so that each bull would be represented by approximately 35 services. Clean-up bulls would then be turned with cows approximately 16 days after A.I. service. Matings should be recorded and palpation done to determine service sires.
The cow groups and resulting progeny should be managed so that they are treated as uniformly as possible or in such fashion that all sire groups are represented equally in each management sex-group. Information should be obtained on each calf such that the facts are recorded from conception to birth.

and through the weaning and yearling stages.

At the procedures of the test were established, Valley View began preparing their cows for the project. The cows used were approximately five and one-half years old with practically all carrying one-quarter to one-half Brahman blood. The females were categorized by color and then broken into two separate breeding groups. The first contained colored cows and the second contained black and black-halves.

The cows were synchronized utilizing Sycor-Mate-B and the two groups were inseminated, respectively, on May 6 and 7, 1983 by A.I. technician, Charles Dryden, Mineola, Texas. The colored group was bred with the calves removed from the cows 48 hours prior to breeding while the black-black half group was bred with the calves remaining on the cow. The variance in conception will be determined at a later date comparing the synchronization and the two methods of handling of the calves prior to breeding.

"What we saw with the Sycor-Mate-B and the 48 hour calf removal method is that the cows that had their calves removed prior to breeding came into standing heat after 32 hours. The other group came into heat at about 48 hours when we bred them. Sory noted, but we won't know the end results until the cows have been palpated."

Fifteen days after the A.I. clean-up bulls, Brangus, were turned with the females and the bulls remained with the cows for 60 days.

Valley View started their cow/calf operation a little over five years ago after having strictly buying and selling feeder calves. Their purpose in starting the cow/calf program was to raise heifers that were worth as much as their steers. Valley View chose to use Brangus bulls for their calving ease and presently they use equal numbers of Brangus and Beefmaster bulls.

"We simply operate like registered breeders. We have a good, unique set of cows. We require them to calve every 12 months or else they are culled. We just have a good, solid set of functional females," Sory said.

Last year on 3,000 females they had around a 96 percent pregnancy percentage. Valley View is a horizontally integrated operation with both feed and grow yards. Combining the capacity of Valley View's two feedlots, located in Amarillo and Littlefield, Texas, they can stock around 80,000 head. They also own two packing plants, one in Amarillo and one in Garden City, Kansas.

Valley View hopes to continue future projects with the IBBA. Sory recognizes the possibility of obtaining carcass data on Brangus sired calves in this project or from future projects.

The IBBA/Valley View Cattle Company sponsored Sire Evaluation Project is merely a stepping stone for the National Sire Evaluation program the IBBA is developing. The Sire Evaluation Project was made possible through the support, generosity and enthusiasm of a number of Brangus breeders.

The following bulls and breeders are involved in this project: Big Foot of Brinks, owned by Willow Springs Ranch, Burton, Texas; Brinks Brangus, Sisterdale, Texas; and Wheat Belt Farms, Enid, Oklahoma; semen was donated by Brinks Brangus; M.L.R. Champ 770 (Nighttrain), owned by Granada Brangus, Bryan, Texas; Moon Lake Ranch, Rosmaron, Texas; and Cow Creek Ranch, Marble Falls, Texas; semen donated by Granada Brangus; Brinks-Tremor 198M15 (Tremor), owned by Brinks Brangus, Clayton and Modesta Williams, Floresville, Texas; Riley Brangus, Huntville, Missouri; and Pyramid Land & Cattle, Midland, Texas; semen was donated by Riley Brangus; WBR Rocky 680-A884 (Successor), owned by Willow Springs Ranch, Vineyard Cattle Company, Wharton, Texas; and Sillon Ranch, Brenham, Texas; Louie Pease Lad 1/6 (Pease) owned by Brand's Brangus Ranch, Round Top, Texas; Diamond A Cattle Company, Roswell, New Mexico; Granada Brangus, Highland Bend Ranch, Fulshear, Texas; Spring Creek Ranch, Searay, Arkansas; Adair's Flying A Ranch, Weatherford, Texas; semen donated by Brand's Brangus Ranch; PD Champ of Brinks, owned by Heldon Ranch, Morriston, Florida; and Don and Paul Brinkman, Sisterdale, Texas; semen was donated by Heldon Ranch; and PW Yuval Duke 808/9, owned by Casabel Land and Cattle Company, Benson, Arizona.

Field Day Set For Forage-Developed Bulls

Results from the past 350-day bull performance test on forages will be presented on October 8 at 10:00 a.m. at the Stephen F. Austin State University Beef Farm. A Dutch-trait barbecue will follow the morning program at the Center for Forage-Developed Bulls located approximately 12 miles north of the Nacogdoches campus on Hwy. 259.

"Approximately 65 bulls representing four breeds were placed on the all-forage gain test last October," reported Dr. Joe Gotti, Animal Scientist with SFAU. He also added that, "This jointly sponsored project between SFAU and the Texas Forage and Grassland Council has been an eye-opener from the standpoint of the overall performance of these 20+ month-old bulls."

N. A. Ward, chairman of the TFGC bull test committee, said that, "It is too early to assess the full impact of this first trial; however, most producers would be surprised and impressed to see what forages rather than feed grains can do in a year-long developmental period." According to Dr. Joe Gotti, "Another performance test will begin this fall at SFAU and bull nominations for this trial should be mailed by September 15 to Center for Forage-Developed Bulls, P.O. Box 13000, SFAU, Nacogdoches, TX 77962."
